DAY 25:
DO THE RIGHT THING SIMPLY BECAUSE YOU BELIEVE IN IT

Watch: Watch today's short video. Pay attention to the question John asks and his perspective on the day's intentional action.

Think: Do you have any doubts about yourself and your ability to make a difference? Do you lack certainty about your ability to fulfill your dream? Do you have moments when you worry that you may put a tremendous amount of time and effort into trying to do something significant, yet you won't get the positive outcome you desire? Everyone probably does. Try to make a difference anyway. If you try to make a difference, you don't know how it will turn out. It's possible nothing could happen. However, if you don't try to make a difference, you do know how it will turn out: You know nothing will happen.

Do: If there has been a step toward fulfilling your dream to make a difference that you have failed to take because of doubt, take that step anyway today and allow the results to take care of themselves. The only thing you can control is your own actions. Do the right thing because you believe it is the right thing to do.

Tell: Once you've taken a step to overcome doubt today, tell someone about it. If you use social media, post using #IntentionalLiving. You can also click to share today's big idea on social media:

If you wait to make a difference until you know it will make a difference,
you will never make a difference.
