DAY 27: INVEST IN OTHERS

Watch: Watch today's short video. Pay attention to the question John asks and his perspective on the day's intentional action.

Think: Who in your life could benefit from your life experience? Who could you invest in to help reach his or her potential? Think of everyone you know in every area of your life. How could you combine what you are passionate about with a person who can benefit from your experience in that area?

Do: Once you have identified this person, offer to become a mentor. Plan to come alongside this person for a season of time—months or even years—and meet periodically. You may want to meet every month or two. Ask the person to come to the meeting with questions. As long as the person is working to grow and as long as you are able to be helpful, continue to meet.

Tell: After you've identified someone to mentor, tell others about it. If you use social media, post using the hashtag #IntentionalLiving. You can also click to share today's big idea on social media:

If you want to change the world,
invest in helping another person to reach his or her potential.
